

SLIGHT RELIEF IS PROMISED FROM A SWELTER PERIOD

"Comparatively Cool Over Week-End, Rainfall Light and Scattered"

THE HUMIDITY IS HIGH

Past Four Days Show High Temperature Compared With Same Dates in '46

Those who are claiming that hot weather is here can find no one to dispute their claim — for local weather records bear out the fact that temperature highs are greater than for the same dates last August, with the humidity remaining high also.

"Highs" in temperature for the last four days of this week range from 88 to 96, while those of the same period last August ran from 78 to 82. Thus, with the mercury 10 to 14 degrees higher for several days over a period, with the humidity not being any less than for the comparable dates, it doesn't only seem hot — it is "sweltering."

The temperature range on August 12th last year was from 59 to 82, while the same date this year took it from 67 to 88; August 13th last year 60 to 78, while this year it was 69 to 92; August 14th last year, range of 59 to 79, while this year it was 73 to 96; August 15 last year, 58 to 79, and this year the mercury ranged from 73 to 96. The percent relative humidity during the four days compared last August is listed at 84 on up to 94; and for the same period this year from 88 to 93. The figures given cover 24 hour periods ending at eight a. m.

But the weather man predicts: "Eastern Pennsylvania comparatively cool over week-end, rainfall light and scattered during period. Temperatures generally above normal for the season."

In the East, the weatherman finally promised slight relief from some of the most torrid weather of the year.

New York expected temperatures in the mid-80s today, following the year's high of 93.6 yesterday. A freak storm broke a window in a Brooklyn food shop injuring two persons.

In Ithaca, N. Y., a Cornell University student, Richard L. Heath, 29, of Upper Montclair, N. J., was killed by lightning.

Philadelphia anticipated a temperature of 93 degrees coupled with 60 per cent humidity. The scorching heat wave had taken four lives to date. In Wilkes-Barre, Pa., the fourth day of 90-plus temperatures resulted in the death of a miner, William Evans, 60.

The nation's capital was faced with 90 degrees temperatures today, but predicted showers in the afternoon and evening were expected to bring the mercury down. Washington's temperature reached 96.8 yesterday for its third hottest day of 1947.

Southwestern United States continued to swelter. Oklahoma temperatures were expected to hit the 100 mark today, while New Mexico forecasts called for scattered thundershowers with highs ranging from 80 to 90.

The weather forecast for the Pacific Northwest area was partly cloudy with moderate temperature. Southern Idaho was expected to have temperatures in the mid-90's.

Yesterday found the beach at Silver Lake jammed with bathers who sought the water as a place of relief from the heat.

The heat did not appear to seriously affect children as they showed up as usual at the Bristol playground ready to glide down the slides, swing in the swings and wind.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT

The Limit Reached

Washington, Aug. 16. — THE conviction that for two years now we have been foolishly playing into the hands of the Russian leaders whose objective is not peace but chaos, and who have not the remotest desire for international friendship, is practically unanimous in both political parties. Differ as they may on domestic issues, they are united as to that. The only dissent comes from the feeble Wallace group on the Democratic side and a few extreme isolationists on the other. Neither means much.

PERHAPS it was essential to exhaust every possibility of Russian co-operation. Perhaps those two years of futility were necessary to prove that Russian co-operation is a mirage and Russian strategy from the start has been to nullify, frustrate, delay and block all efforts to make the "One World" idea a reality. In that, at any rate, they have succeeded. They also have succeeded in exhausting American patience, opening American eyes and creating an overwhelming American sentiment against permitting the Soviet leaders to continue making fools of us. So strong is this feeling that the molders of American policy are being forced to make of the November meeting of Foreign Ministers an absolute deadline.

HERE AND THERE IN BUCKS COUNTY TOWNS

Activities of Interest To All in The Various Communities

CLEANED BY SCRIBES

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kovacs, of Morrisville, found a 13-year-old intruder hiding behind a sofa in their living room Thursday afternoon. The Kovacs had just returned from a shopping trip to Trenton. They noticed several drawers in the house had been ransacked. Closer examination disclosed the boy crouching behind the sofa.

Chief of Police Harry F. Christ, who took the boy into custody, said he gave a Trenton, N. J., address. The boy admitted, it is said, that he entered the house by opening a rear door with a skeleton key. He said he was looking for money.

In spite of the hot weather and the busy season among the farmers, approximately 25 members attended the meeting of Middletown Grange in the memorial house, Langhorne, Wednesday evening.

The meeting was featured by a brief business session in charge of the master, Charles D. Lowmes, and a talk by Mr. Smith, a representative of a cattle feed concern.

A report of the picnic held on July 26, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Kirk was given. The event was said to have been largely attended and an outstanding social success.

Members were urged by the home economics committee to have the dresses they made ready to be judged at the meeting of Lower Bucks Pomona Grange, No. 22, at the headquarters of Tyro Hall Grange, Buckingham, on Sept. 3.

The women were asked also to

A SUMMARY OF THE NEWS

The Inter-American Conference, which opened yesterday in Rio de Janeiro, received a United States proposal that would make it obligatory for all nations covered by the hemisphere defense treaty to take part in defense against an aggressor. Under the terms of this plan, which was announced by Secretary of State Marshall, no nation could remain neutral.

President Dutra of Brazil said the threat of aggression had forced the republics of the Western Hemisphere to take collective action to safeguard their security and warned that in an organized society there could be no place for neutrality as between law and crime.

President Truman sent Myron C. Taylor to Rome to confer with Pope XII on the question of creating peace "under a moral world order."

The State Department charged reports received from United States officials in Rumania indicated that the Bucharest Government was exercising "third-degree methods" to compel opposition leaders to "confess." Meanwhile, the Rumanian Government repudiated its currency to speed the Communist program.

In Palestine, eleven Arabs were killed by Jewish underground forces in reprisal for the slaying of four Jews by Arabs in a cabaret near Tel Aviv, Sunday.

140 Assemble for The Bishop Family Reunion

PERKASIE, Aug. 16.—When the annual reunion of the Bishop family was conducted at Lenape Park, with 140 attending, Russell Bishop of Lansdale, was named president.

Mr. Bishop succeeds Winfield Moyer, of Silverdale.

Named vice president was Mrs. Sara Heckler, corresponding secretary, Jean Bishop; and treasurer, Rhine Bishop, all of Lansdale.

Special prizes were awarded to the following: Herman Heckler, whose home is in Massachusetts, for coming the longest distance; Gideon Moyer, Plumsteadville, the oldest; and James Bishop, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bishop, Jr., the youngest.

A quartet comprising members of the Gideon Moyer family, from Plumsteadville, sang several selections.

At the business meeting it was decided to hold the 1948 reunion at Lenape, August 14.

SPEAKS OF DISEASES OF THE DAIRY HERDS

Frank L. Magill Emphasizes Importance of Clean Herds

IS GRANGE SPEAKER

BUCKINGHAM, Aug. 16.—Frank L. Magill emphasized the importance of keeping dairy herds free from disease at the meeting of Tyro Hall Grange, here, Wednesday evening.

The proper steps necessary were outlined by Mr. Magill. Clean herds, he said, have been known to have outbreaks of disease when there were apparently no causes. Germs, it was explained, can be carried from barn to barn by veterinarians, cattle dealers and other persons, and at all times, said Mr. Magill, the farmers should insist that these persons have their clothes disinfected before going from one barn to another.

The program following the business session, which was conducted by the master, J. Walter Livezey, was in charge of the youth activity committee, of which Mrs. Richard Burd is the chairman. During the program suggestions were made for assisting the young people in the community. The youth activity committee, which also had charge of a number of games, presented a new record player to the Grange.

Representing the home economics committee, Miss Grace Price announced the canning and freezing projects for the Doylestown Emergency Hospital will be started in the near future.

Mrs. Frank L. Magill announced some of the plans for the meeting, which will be held on Aug. 23, when the Grange will observe its 35th anniversary and hold a mortgage burning ceremony. Among the guests will be the master of the State Grange, W. Sharp Pullerton, and other State Grange officials.

David L. Deen and son Herbert will sing. The event will also be featured by the serving of a dinner.

Mrs. Edward Crockett, Miss Grace Price and Richard Burd were named additional members of the committee to arrange for the celebration.

Miss Mary Rice and Mr. and Mrs.

A VOTE FOR STORCH IS A VOTE FOR SOCIALIZED MEDICINE

The CIO candidate now running for Congress in this district hasn't had much—if anything—to say about the issue of socialized medicine.

As a matter of fact, he has had very little to say about any of the issues. The CIO bosses who have invaded this district from Pittsburgh, Detroit, Moscow and other points east and west, have been doing most of his talking for him.

But his silence on the issues doesn't take them out of the election. They are involved—very much so.

Take the question of Socialized Medicine.

This is a matter of special interest to all doctors and all other professional men dealing with the care and cure of the human body. It's also interesting to everyone who may need their services.

Nearly two years ago President Truman demanded that Congress pass what he called a "National Health Bill" which, on examination, turned out to be the pre-war Socialized Medicine system of Hitler-Germany, with some special Communistic features brought in from Russia, and some Labor-Socialistic gadgets invented in England.

Although the Congress then was Democratic, and therefore nominally sympathetic to the President, the Bill aroused such bitter protest that it was pigeon-holed. America wasn't ready to nationalize the medical profession. The idea of medicine being made into a sort of super-WPA project, with all doctors on Uncle Sam's payroll and answerable to New Deal bureaucrats, didn't go down so well.

But it presently came out whose grist the President was trying to grind with the Socialized Medicine Bill.

The principal backers of that plan turned out to be the CIO bosses.

Mind you, it wasn't a "grass roots" movement rising out of the millions of working men and women who make up the membership of the CIO. Oh, no—the CIO doesn't function that way! The spirit of democracy never has been deadlier than in the breasts of the CIO bosses; in fact, their great objection to the new Taft-Hartley Labor Bill is that it would take control of their unions out of the hand of the labor dictators, and turn that control back to the membership, where under democratic principles it assuredly belongs.

NEW POWER LINE TO BE OPERATING SOON

Perkasie Boro' To Close Municipal Plant and Switch To P. P. & L. Co.

BY SEPTEMBER FIRST

PERKASIE, Aug. 16.—If present plans materialize, Perkasie borough will close its municipal electric plant and go over to Pennsylvania Power & Light Company current by September 1st.

This was disclosed at a conference between P. P. & L. engineers and borough officials Wednesday. Current will be received over the present hook-up with the P. P. & L. lines near Rockhill. This line was constructed seven years ago as a supplemental supply for the borough.

When an ordinance was adopted two weeks ago borough officials were given authority to enter into such a contract.

Larger transformers must be installed at the sub-station at Ninth & Race streets. These transformers will be leased from P. P. & L. and will be delivered next week. Installation of the transformers will be made on Sunday, August 24, according to plans.

At the conference, Wednesday, potential routes for the permanent feeder line direct from the P. P. & L. sub-station in Sellersville were discussed.

A number of proposals were made but no definite plan was adopted. P. P. & L. engineers will prepare complete plans and specifications for several routes which will be presented to council for a decision. The utility company will plan Perkasie's portion of the line as well as its own.

The only matter upon which definite action was taken was that Fifth street, the boulevard leading to Sell-Perk high school and on to Sellersville borough through Church street, shall not be used for the permanent feeder line. Perkasie Borough, when the street was opened, laid its electric service wires under ground in cables and it plans to keep that portion of the street free of overhead wires.

The present steam generating equipment at the local plant will be maintained intact as a stand-by service in the event of an emergency until the permanent feeder line is completed. Because of the shortage of some of the material, it may take six months to complete the line.

Federal Aid To Schools

—by—

SAMUEL B. PETTINGILL

"The Gentleman from Indiana"

Federal aid to education has once more been aired before the House Committee on Education and Labor. Not a single one of the 98 states, nor Board of Education in any state, city, or county, nor Chamber of Commerce, nor taxpayer group anywhere made a single formal request for federal aid to educate their children. Not one! Yet the Washington bleeding hearts salt their handkerchiefs with the brine of their tears over the plight of the schools in the "poor states."

Assuming that more money should be spent on many of our schools, the fact remains that there is not a state in the union that is not better able to pay for its schools than is the federal government with its $258,000,000,000 debt.

And, another thing. When Mr. Truman vetoed tax reduction, that one act cost the taxpayers more than the total amount spent on grade and high school education in the entire United States! For example, Ohio citizens must send to Washington $212,800,000 more in taxes this year because of Truman's veto. Yet the total cost of Ohio schools in 1942 was $114,376,000. But because Mr. Truman insists on sucking out of Ohio one hundred

CROP-DUSTING PILOT IS UNHURT IN CRASH

Walter Hill, Oxford Valley Road, Avoiding Collision With Student Pilot

IN VANSANT'S CRAFT

FLORENCE, N. J., Aug. 16.—A pilot from Oxford Valley road, Langhorne R. D. Pa., attempting a landing at Florence Airport in a crop-dusting plane Thursday evening was unhurt when his craft upset. The pilot, Walter Hill, 32, states he was maneuvering to avoid a collision with a student pilot landing at the same time.

The crop-dusting biplane hit a hummock dug its left wing in and upset, damaging both wings and the propeller.

The accident happened at about 8 o'clock as Hill landed at the field of North Aviation Activities to reload the insecticide sprayer chamber. At the time, he was dusting tomato plants at the Joseph P. Simpkins farm in Florence township and was using the local port for his reloading.

The ship is owned by John Vansant of Langhorne, connected with the Old Star Airport.

Lump-Sum Death Payments

Sometimes a worker dies and leaves no one qualified to receive monthly insurance payments. For whom is his wage record building up social security protection?

Answer: A lump-sum payment.

Question: To whom would the lump sum be paid if your death had occurred before January 1, 1947?

THE RUHR

There are times when any decision, even a wrong one, is better than inaction. And that is the situation which faces representatives of Britain, France and the United States as they meet to decide what to do with the fallow productive capacities of the German Ruhr.

The Ruhr formerly supplied most of the continent's coal and much of its steel. Total European production of both is now far below prewar levels. That is one of the main causes of the present economic crisis.

Here in the United States, when coal and steel strikes briefly cut production until employers accused to the demands of the strikers, postwar production lagged badly. The same thing, multiplied many times, has happened in western Europe. Restoration of production in the Ruhr seems the only way to remedy it.

These figures are more than a coincidence: Coal production in western Europe is 200,000,000 tons below the prewar level of 1937; German coal production has dropped by more than 200,- 000,000 tons; Western Europe's steel production is 20,000,000 tons below 1937; Germany's steel production has dropped by nearly that amount.

This puts a hard decision up to the conferees. All want a strong Europe. All would prefer a weak Germany, since a strong Germany might sooner or later be able to wage war again. But it is impossible to have both.

It is mainly the insistence of the London Socialist government that the Ruhr mines be nationalized which threatens the plan to give the continent a vast increase in the production of coal.

Either there must be a strong Germany and a strong Europe, or a weak Germany and a weak Europe. The United States prefers the first, and Britain prefers the second.

No decision will be entirely satisfactory. But there has to be some decision. Without one, no plans can be made for the stabilization of western Europe.

LEANERS AND LIFTERS

Just as true as they were the day they were written are the words of Ella Wheeler Wilcox:
"There are two kinds of people on earth today—The people who lift and the people who lean."

Leaners are by no means small in number. Half of us sit back and watch the other half do the hard work. We do not seem to care who does it. We just know some one does it and that it gets done in some way or other.

But we may be thankful for the lifters! And grateful for the tasks they perform so capably.
And we know their efforts are not in vain, for they have made this country what it is.

Another reason for the popularity of ham and eggs is that no other dish is so hard to cook wrong.

The Great Game of Politics

IT IS NOT only that the best-informed men are convinced that anything else is illogical and indefensible, not to say idiotic, but public sentiment has reached a pitch where another exhibition such as occurred in Moscow last spring will not be tolerated. Then Mr. Molotov, impervious to every appeal and rejecting every argument, brought the conference to an utterly ridiculous close, making the whole business an absurd waste of time, money and effort.
The limit has been reached. Everything that could be done to secure Russian acquiescence has been done. None save the incurable partisan can seriously believe now that the Russians intend—or ever intended—to co-operate. No one not obviously bedazzled can be misled further by soft-headed urgings to understand the Russians. The time has arrived when it is impossible longer to mis-understand them.

WE were not very smart ever to have done so, but certainly now it is much too clear to dispute that their fixed policy is against any kind of international cooperation which we possibly could contemplate. In two years' time they have reduced the United Nations to complete futility. Through exercise of their veto they have prevented an inch of progress in the supremely vital job of controlling atomic energy in the interests of international peace. By laying down impossible conditions they have brought every conference since the shooting ended to an inconclusive and innocuous conclusion. They have consistently violated written treaties and agreements as well as verbal understandings until no one anywhere has any confidence in a Russian promise and the most patient of our representatives have become resentful.

CLEARLY we cannot continue to be the gregarious fools we have been for two years. Clearly, to let the Soviet leaders longer lure us with the idea that just a little more effort and another conference or so will bring us together in amity and accord is just silly. There is such wide agreement on this score that a concrete program of action at the November conference is becoming to emerge. The first step in this is not to let that conference run along through tedious weeks of shadow boxing, as have the others, but just as soon as it is apparent the Russian policy of procrastination and excuse has not changed in effect, to say to them this:

Enough. This conference is over.

There will be no others. We are going ahead on our own. We will make our own peace treaties with Germany and Japan. If later you want to come in, the door will be open; but, for all time, we are through with this kind of nonsense. We not only should say that but mean it.

million more dollars than her total school costs, the bureaucrats beat their bosoms for "federal aid" for education!

The best federal aid for education is to reduce federal taxes. Then the states can educate their children without help from the busybodies in Washington. But then the Washington bleeding hearts wouldn't have so many jobs. Yet, public-spirited people continue to fall for the colossal money-scound of draining tax money out of the state and then sending it back to the states—less the political brokerage.

MIDDLE AMERICAN VEAL ROLLS BRING MEXICO TO TABLE

You may not be able to get away from the daily routine long enough for a trip to the sun-land of Mexico, but you may bring that country straight to your table in the form of excitingly-flavored veal rolls. Made with white wine, these rolls blend vegetables, meats and spices in a tempting dish that can really make you imagine you are south of the border.

The chili powder is of course made of dried and ground peppers—one of the oldest vegetables known to the western hemisphere. These, the housewife conscious of vitamin content, will be glad to know, are well-fortified with essential A and C vitamins.

Unlike standard North American cookery, with its one-flavor-to-a-dish tradition, Mexican dishes like these tasty veal rolls combine a variety of widely different ingredients. Cooked slowly, they have an unusual taste-stimulus which discriminating families in this country are learning to enjoy more and more.

The use of wine in preparing meat, too, is another Latin cookery idea for making meal-time a more pleasant event, and spreading the veal with deviled ham before making the rolls is another of those minor culinary twists which may be introduced to enhance eating pleasure.

Middle American Veal Rolls
2 pounds veal steak, thinly sliced 1 can (3 oz.) deviled ham
1/3 cup seasoned flour
4 tablespoons fat
1 cup chopped onions
1/2 cup chopped green pepper
1 cup tomato puree
1 cup white wine
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon chili powder
1/2 cup boiling water

Cut veal steak into strips 3 x 4 inches. Spread each strip with deviled ham. Roll up and fasten with skewers or tie with string. Roll each piece in seasoned flour. Fry until lightly browned on all sides in hot fat; then remove from fat while sauce is made. Add onions and green pepper to remaining fat in pan and fry until golden brown.

6 RUNS SCORED IN LAST FRAME WINS
FOR LANGHORNE

5th Ward Club Goes Down
To Defeat by 7 to 4
Score

CAMPION IS LEADER

Sagolla Blows Up in Last Inning of The Game

LANGHORNE, Aug. 16—Six runs in the last frame gave the Langhorne Legion a 7-4 win over the Fifth Ward Sporting Club last evening on Playwick field in an important Bristol Suburban League
game.

The win put the Langhorne team one-half game behind the Democrat Club in the race for third position (final playoff spot) in the second division of the circuit. Should Langhorne beat Goodwill next Wednesday night, they will tie the Democrat Club and a playoff will be necessary.

The Fifth Ward loss practically eliminated them from the league race as Goodwill now is 2 full games ahead of the Warders. The Warders are banking their hopes on a protest which is in the hands of an arbitration board. Fifth Ward has protested its game with Rohm and Haas last week.

It was the arm and bat of Dick Campion which turned the tide of last evening's fracas. With the score tied at 4-4, Campion stepped to the plate in the last canto and delivered a long triple to left field to clean the bags. With his arm, Campion held the Warders to nine hits, five of which came in the second inning.

Going into the last inning, Fifth Ward was ahead, 5-1 when suddenly Joe Sagolla blew up. Lamb got a hit and Brigle had a fielder's choice but was safe on an error. W. Rothenbach was hit with a pitched ball to load the base. Keen was also hit, and Lamb was forced home.
Sagolla walked Brunner and Brigle came home. "Smithers" Cordison went in to pitch and he walked Reed, forcing in W. Rothenbach with the icing run. Campion then came through with his winning triple.

CHANGE DATE OF
AMATEUR BOUTS
AT ST. ANN'S ARENA

Bouts Are To Be Held On Wednesday Night Instead of Monday Night

BARRINGTON OBJECTS

A. A. U. Agrees to Guarantee at Least Eight Bouts Here

The date of the amateur boxing bouts has been changed. Instead of the show being held Monday night, it will be held on next Wednesday night. The decision to change the date was made at a meeting of the Middle Atlantic district of the A. A. U. and the boxing commissioner yesterday in Philadelphia.

Representatives of the St. Ann's organization and "Sammy" Moffo made every effort to keep amateur boxing here on Monday nights and refused to give in to Barrington, N. J., which also sought a Monday for a fight night. Last Monday, only four fighters showed up at Barrington and the officials there protested that all the fighters went to Bristol.

Since Barrington has been conducting amateur shows for many years, it was finally agreed to let it keep the Monday night for its amateur shows and give Bristol Wednesday night.

However, "Sammy" Moffo refused to accept Wednesday unless the A. A. U. agreed to guarantee at least eight bouts for every Wednesday night. The officials of the A. A. U. agreed to this and so the shows in Bristol will be held every Wednes-
